POSTPONED.—James Richardson, for purloining certain articles from the store of Messrs. Bear Bros., yesterday, was brought up before his Honor, the Mayor, this morning, but owing to the absence of proper witnesses, the trial was postponed until Monday next.

WHO AND WHAT IS HE?—For several days a white man, a stranger, has been seen upon our streets, with a bundle of bagging under his arm. From his appearance one is led to suppose that he is either a maniac, or that he is endeavoring to perambulate with too heavy a cargo of "tangle leg." Certain it is that something is "rotten in Denmark," and we call the attention of the authorities to said individual.

For the Post.

The congregation of St. Mark's Parish desire to acknowledge the receipt of $160 from the citizens of Wilmington in aid of their efforts to complete the tower of their Church. For this liberal contribution they return their hearty thanks. May the great Head of the Church abundantly reward, both in time and eternity, those who have so kindly aided in the completion of his temple.

DISCHARGED.—By reference to the proceedings of the Mayor's Court this morning, it will be seen that one of the police force, a white man, E. S. Harriss, was discharged from the force, and ordered to clip off his buttons and deposit them in the Marshal's office. This is the second time this same individual has been discharged for the same offence, but it is not at all probable that we shall again be called upon to chronicle his dismissal from this body. He has been sufficiently tested, "tried in the balance and found wanting."

The contract for building out and repairs on Walnut, Dock, Ann and Orange streets, was awarded to R. G. Ross, at $2,800.

The contract for laying certain crossings in the city with flag-stone, was awarded to James Bryson, at 15 cents per foot, equal to $6 75 for each crossing, the city to furnish the flags.

A consideration of the bids in reference to sewers and drains was postponed until the next meeting.

Bid for paving sidewalks, where necessary, with good hard Eastern brick, on Front from Red Cross to Church streets, was awarded to R. S. Radcliffe, at $1 per square yard.

The Mayor was authorized to advertise for proposals to pave Mulberry, between Front and Water streets, with cobble-stone, with instructions to report at next meeting.

It was ordered that if the contract for paving Front street, between Chestnut and Orange, with Belgian paving stone, be not signed, and a suitable bond submitted prior to the next meeting of the Board, that the contract shall be declared null and void.

It was ordered that, in all contracts of the city, bonds shall be required equal to one-fourth of the entire amount of the contract.

The matter of establishing a proper grade on Front street, between Red Cross and Church, was referred to the Committee on Streets and Wharves, to report at the next meeting.

Nine applications for positions on the police force, were referred to the Committee on Police.

The Board then adjourned to the next regular meeting.

FLORENCE, May 16.

The reservoir above Williamsburg, Massachusets, broke this morning, loosening a large volume of water, which carried away nearly every dwelling house in its course. Many lives are lost, but so great is the excitement that it is impossible to get the exact number.

At Leeds the silk manufacturing and and button shop are both carrid away. The station agent of the N. H. & A. R. R., with his wife were both drowned at the same place. Many persons were swept down stream. The water is now falling, and it is expected that in about three hours more correct and definite particulars may be obtained Several bodies were seen going down stream, but so swift was the current they could not be recovered.

CAIRO, May 16.

An officer of the steamer James Howard reports that a mutiny occurred on that vessel yesterday, and that the deck crew virtually had possession of the boat until an armed force from here boarded her. The negroes drove the officers up stairs, and warned them not to come down or land the boat. As no arms were to be had, the officers made no resistance. The boat was run near enough to the wharf boat at Hickman to throw off a telegram to the U. S. Marshal at Cairo, asking for a posse to meet the boat below the city.

A large loss of life is reported, but it is at present impossible to give any estimate, though it is probable there is not less than one hundred.

Office of County Commissioners,

NEW HANOVER COUNTY,
Wilmington, N. C., May 13, 1874.

IN PURSUANCE OF SECTION 16 OF AN act to Raise Revenue, ratified February 14 th, 1874, the Board of County Commissioners of New Hanover county will meet at the Court House in the city of Wilmington, on the

and then and there proceed to revise the tax lists and valuation reported to them, and complete the lists, by computing the tax payable by each person and affixing the same opposite his name. The session of the Board will continue for the space of three working days.

The following duties devolve upon the Board:

1st. They shall hear all persons objecting to the valuation of their property, or to the amount of tax charged against them.

2. They shall have power to raise he valuation upon such property as they shall deem unreasonably low. For the purpose above indicated the Board of Commissioners are empowered to summons and examine witnesses, and to correct the abstracts of the Township Boards of Trustees.

AS MAY BE JUST AND RIGHT, and so the valuation of similar property throughout the county shall be as near uniform as possible.

After the Tax Lists are made up and placed in the hands of the Sheriff it will become very difficult to make any alterations in them. Therefore all persons interested will please attend to this important matter.

The frequent applications to the County Commissioners heretofore for relief and correction of errors—almost entirely the fault of the tax-payers—has become an evil of great magnitude, costing the county much more to correct errors than the whole amount involved. Notice is now given that no alteration will be made after the time expires except in accordance with the letter of the law.

Democratic Tactics.

The Democratic party continued the agitation of the question of slavery until the country was precipitated into a disastrous war. In the same manner they are attempting to bring forward another subject, upon which the minds of all good men, and law abiding citizens are made up, until that party rides into office on it, or another and a more dreadful collision ensues.

It is easily observable that the principal canvassing of the subject of civil rights comes from the democrats. It is that party alone which will profit by the agitation of it. If they can make parties in the South draw their lines by color, it requires but little arithmetical skill to show that the negro race will be the weaker, when the contest is brought upon such a line.

The laws of the land, faithfully administered, are a sufficient protection to every citizen of the United States.—The arrogance of certain individuals, who insist upon still drawing a distinction between whites and blacks in regard to their treatment in hotels, conveyances, and other public places, only needs an appeal to the principles of the common law to be crushed. There is no honest man, whose opinions are not covered by a scale of prejudice thicker than an alligator's hide, who will deny that a colored man who pays his way is entitled to the same treatment in a hotel that a white man is. If, however, in deference to a sentiment or a prejudice which is as strong as the partiality a parent feels for his children, a hotel keeper spearates his white and colored guests, providing equal accommodations for those who pay alike, who can gainsay his right to do so? It is upon this principle that the Southern States have provided for separate schools for the races, in doing which the exercised a sovereignty and a right which is incontestably theirs.

That the Democratic party is endeavoring to force this matter to the extreme is apparent from the stand their press takes. And not alone is proof offered for this source, but we can see as plainly as we see the sun at noonday, that every colored agitator is in harmony with them, and is acting under their counsel and advice. Their only hope in this Congressional District is to divide the large Republican vote of New Hanover, upon this question. Mr. Waddell's friends, his zealous supporters, are those who are endeavoring to array one part of the Republicans against the other, and to sow dissentions in our party. They have forced a distasteful candidate upon the Democrats of this Congressional District, and in order to make good their pledges to their party they must divide ours. It only depends upon that. We ask our friends, who are taking the insidious counsels of their enemies, to pause one moment and reflect upon what they are doing; and we know that, when reflection comes to the aid of judgment, they will discover the snare laid for them, and avoid it.

We cannot believe that the colored men are willing to jeopardize the party if they know it; therefore we ask them candidly and calmly to look at the situation and draw their conclusions.

We ask in all candor, any colored man, if his condition would be improved, or his rights under the law better secured, by the election of Democrats to office. If they think so, then they "go back" upon all that has been done for them by self-sacrificing Republicans all over the country. They desert their friends and surrender themselves to the slave-loving Democracy.

He unblushingly admits that it was one of the most ecstatic moments of his life when the doctor laid his hand upon his shoulder and sadly whispered, "Her voice is irretrievably gone. She will never speak again."

Spelmaania, Or, Choice Extracts from Spelman.

The following are a few choice extracts from the columns of the Blasting Powder of the 28th of August, 1872, a newspaper edited by John Spelman who has recently been appointed to office by a Republican administration. Here they are:

"There are two candidates in the field for President of the United States—one is a Radical, the other a Liberal. The first was nominated by a convention of the office-holders at Philadelphia; the other was nominated by the best and purest men in the now disbanded Republican party, and was afterwards nominated, also by the Democratic Convention at Baltimore."

"The office-holders' candidate is Gen. Grant, whose soldiers recklessly destroyed so much of our people's substance in the spring of 1865. He was nominated by the men already in office, because they know that when Grant loses his office they will certainly lose theirs also. It is certain that unless Grant is re-elected in November, they will all give place to better men. On the principle that one good turn deserves another, they hope by keeping Grant in to be kept in themselves, and they well know that the only way for them to retain their fat salaries is to re-elect Grant."

[It appears, however, that altho' they did elect Grant, this black sheep, Spelman, has managed to grab a fat salary himself from Grant whose election he so strenuously opposed.—ED]

"Now, we of the South know Gen. Grant; we became acquainted with him when the United States troops foraged through this country. He was then a successful general. In 1868 he became a politician and seeing that both sections desired reconciliation he proclaimed, "Let us have peace," and was elected on the peace platform. But what kind of peace has he given this country? We assert, and no sane man will deny it, that his whole administration has been taken up with "agitation." The just expectation of all law-abiding citizens, that good feeling should be restored between the two sections, has been postponed, delayed and defeated! He has been the arch agitator, thinking thereby to secure his re-election. Peace between the sections and harmony between the North and the South, would result in the election of some other person as President, so Grant studiously kept alive the flames of hate and sectional animosity that he might serve another term of four years, at twenty-five thousand dollars a year."

The foregoing are verbatim selections from the pen of John Spelman, who has the "manhood" to slander, hate and revile a political opponent, but has the craven meanness to cringe to that opponent, and to seek and accept office at his hands. Who would not rather be a dog and bay the moon, than be a wretch so vile? Other extracts, no less elegant, will be given in future numbers of the Era.—Era.

Another Learned Blacksmith.

Correspondence of N. Y. Sun.

SHERIDAN, Lebanon county, Pa., May 11th, 1874.—There are not many blacksmith astronomers in the world. Yet here in this quiet little village in the valley of Lebanon I have found one, probably the only one in the United States; a man who to-day is making astronomical calculations for a little world of almanac makers, and who employs the other half of his time in making iron spoons, ladles, horseshoes, and other articles of the blacksmith trade. His star gazing and eclipse calculations do not bring him in a sufficient sum to support himself and family, and hence he pounds and fashions red hot iron for a livelihood. That's the kind of man Lawrence J. Ibach is.

Just 137 miles west of New York, by way of the Allentown Line, toward Harrisburg, is a station on the Lebanon Valley Railroad named in honor of gallant little Phil Sheridan. It is about thirty-five miles east of Harrisburg and seventeen west of Reading. From Sheridan your correspondent rode two miles inland to the village of Newmanstown. It was late in the afternoon when the jolly German driver drew rein and came to a halt in front of a little low country blacksmith shop on the main street of the village. It was a dingy place, rickety, sooty, and black. A small pile of coal and a lot of scrap iron were lying near the door. The tinkling song of the anvil and hammer was heard. The door opened, and a tall, well-built man appeared.

"Nothing wrong, Mr. Ibach," said the wagoner, "only brought a stranger to see you. Wants to have a talk with you."

Two hours afterward, by appointment, I was in the study of this most remarkable man. It was a singular apartment way off here in the wilds of Pennsylvania, apparently beyond the borders of civilization. The walls were hung with maps and the corners of the room contained piles of books. A low, broad table was in the middle of the room, and a large coal oil lamp was dimly burning. Several beautiful globes, elegantly mounted, were on the table. The rain pattered incessantly on a skylight above. A large sectional telescope was lying in a rack. Another, on a beautiful stand, was near the door.—An old Chinese work on astronomy is a rare relic. He has a reprint of Montucia, recounting observations that were made 2,500 years ago. He has reminiscences of Thales and Meton. The Ptolemies are represented. He has a work of George of Peurbach, an astronomer of the Austrian dominions, born in 1423. Also of John Muller, of Konigsberg, from whom we possess the first good and complete Ephemerides. He is a great student of Nicholas Copernicus, born in 1473, also, of Tycho Brahe, a Dane, born in 1546. The opinions of Galileo, Hevelius, Huygens, Newton, Kepler, Halley, Bonguer, Maupertius la Caille, Tobias Mayer, l'Isle, Lambert, Euler, and very many others of a later date are on the shelves and table. He has charts, instruments, sketches, outlines of air and wind currents, and very many other articles pertaining to this branch of his business. And all these hid away here in the rear portion of a two story frame house far from the habitation of science, art or letters.

Mr. Ibach is fifty-eight years of age. He was born in Allentown, Pennsylvania, and in all respects is a self-made made man as far as he has gone. He speaks English, German, Spanish French and some Italian. He is furnishing thirteen large establishments with astronomical calculations, including several newspapers in New York for their almanacs. His calculations for 1874 were made two years ago. Those for 1875 are finished and translated into four different languages, and in a few days will be sent away. The calculations for 1876 have commenced.

In the morning the astronomer works with his telescope, charts, and instruments. In the afternoon he shoes horses, makes nails, hammers iron into ladles and spoons, and finds time to instruct his neighbors and customers. In the evening he entertains his wife and little ones, and never fails to pass two hours with his books. His translated calculations go as far as South America. He is in correspondence with many of the leading minds on astronomy in this country.

Ibach went to school until fifteen years of age, and was then apprenticed to the blacksmith trade. At the age of twelve he began the study of astronomy, and read much on the subject after working hours. A Frenchman named Mancard paid some attention to his education. Ibach served his apprenticeship in full. At thirty years of age he fell heir to a large lot of instruments, tne property of an aged astronomer. Ibach determined to learn the profession of the dead man. He worked incessantly, and finally gained his point. He has grown gray in his work, and it is an absolute fact that one-fourth of the people, in a circut of twenty miles around this dreary country, are not aware of the presence of this philosopher of the stars, and yet he has lived among them twenty years. They know him only as a smith and a Shtanna gucker—a Pennsylvania German term for a star gazer. He is well informed on current topics. I was shown the first pages of the manuscript of a new book on astronomy he is about to issue. He also pointed with pride to a lot of shovels and iron ladles and spoons he had made during the day. He is a genius in no small way, and is completing a telescope larger than any in the State. All in all, he is a wonderful man, hid away here in the country, solving the problem of the stars and planets and shocing horses and doing other work in his blacksmith shop.

A Mate for Laura Bridgman.

A correspondent writes: There lives in the city of Wilkesbarre, Pa., a girl nearly eighteen years of age, who can neither see, hear, nor speak. Her name is Sophia H. Hutson, and she is a daughter of Deacon Hutson of the Baptist Church, with whose family I had the pleasure of spending the night a short time since, and from them learned the facts concerning her. Although in this situation from infancy, she has learned by association with her friends to understand much of their communications, and, in fact, to make herself quite readily understood.

This is done by means of feeling—a touch on certain parts of the fingers or hand indicating letters—and then placing in her hand the articles she has spelled. She will go alone to any part of the house or cellar, bring potatoes, apples, or anything desired, determining by the particular place of touching the article you wish. She is unwilling to be idle any length of time, is very tidy, and when not engaged with her lessons, assists in assigning the ironed clothes their proper places in the different bureau drawers, as I witnessed the morning I was there. Miss Agnes Fuller, an experienced teacher from Illinois, is now engaged in teaching her by use of the manual alphabet, and I trust the foundation is being laid which will make Sophia equal to Laura Bridgman of world-wide fame.

Democratic newspepers are seeking to cast reproach upon Thomas R. Purnell, our candidate for Superintendent of Public Instruction, because he is a young man; and are industriously circulating the false statement, that Mr. Pool, his opponent, is too much for him in debate. We are willing to let the people judge of the relative merits of the competitors, it being the intention of Mr. Purnell to meet his antagonist on the stump throughout North Carolina. They have already met in discussion, and from the accounts we receive, Mr. Punnell achieved a complete triumph over Mr. Pool. The people will have abundant opportunities for seeing the two men, together, and we ask for nothing better.—New North State.

MARSHAL'S OFFICE,

WILMINGTON, N, C., April 22, 1874.

NOTICE.

I WOULD MOST RESPECTFULLY CALL the attention of the citizens to the fact that the warm and sickly season is near at hand, and it becomes my duty to adopt the most stringent sanitary measures at this particular time to preserve the health of the city and prevent the introduction of disease that may originate from foul and unwholesome matter, filth, garbage, trash and refuse matter which has a tendency to create unwholesome and offensive odors. In order to prevent as far as possible the spread of those diseases peculiarly incident to this season of the year I would most respectfully solicit the co-operation of the citizens generally in placing our city in such a sanitary condition as to render it as far as practicable impregnable, at least to those diseases which originate from foul and unwholesome matter. To this end the entire force of the city will be employed in cleansing, draining, cleaning, disinfecting and removing trash, &c., for at least the next fifteen or twenty days. All persons are requested to have the trash, offal, refuse matter, &c., cleaned from their premises and placed upon the streets, whence they will be removed immediately. When it is convenient please use boxes or barrels.

Persons needing disinfectants can have the same free of charge by calling at my office.

The health officers, designated by a yellow rosette, may be notified of any stagnant water standing upon any lot, or damp cellar or anything that would impair the health of the city, and any complaint lodged at this office shall receive prompt attention.

Believing that a proper sanitary condition adopted now, at this early season, will insure a healthy summer I earnestly solicit the aid and co-operation of all the good citizens to accomplish this good end.

Respectfully, &c., GEO W. PRICE, JR.,
april 23—tf City Marshal.

Prospectus for 1874—Seventh year

THE ALDINE

An Illustrated Monthly journal, universally admitted to be Handsomest Periodical in the World. A Representative and Champion of American Taste.

Not for Sale in Book or Music Stores

THE ALDINE while issued with all the regularity, has none of the temporary or timely interest characteristic of ordinary periodicals. It is an elegant miscellany of pure, light and graceful literature; and a collection of pictures, the rarest specimens of artistic skill, in black and white. Although each succeeding number affords a fresh pleasure to its friends, the real value and beauty of THE ALDINE will be most appreciated after it has been bound up at the close of the year. While other publications may claim superior cheapness, as compared with rivals of a similar class, THE ALDINE is a unique and original conception—alone and unapproached—absolutely without competition in price or character. The possessor of a complete volume cannot duplicate the quantity of fine paper and engravings in any other shape or number of volumes for ten times its cost; and then, there are the chromos, besides!

ART DEPARTMENT, 1874.

The illustrations of THE ALDINE have won a world-wide reputation, and in the art centres of Europe it is an admitted fact that its wood cuts are examples of the highest perfection ever attained. The common prejudice in favor of 'steel plates," is rapidly yielding to a more educated and discriminating taste which recognizes the advantages of superior artistic quality with greater facility of production. The woodcuts of THE ALDIFE possess all the delicacy and elaborate finish of the most costly steel plate, while they afford a better rendering of the artist's original.

To fully realize the wonderful work which THE ALDINE is doing for the cause of art culture in America, it is only necessary to consider the cost to the people of any other decent representations of the productions of great painters.

In addition to designs by the members of the National Academy, and other noted American artists, THE ALDINE will reproduce examples of the best foreign masters, selected with a view to the highest artistic success and greatest general interest. Thus the subscribers to THE ALIENE will at a trifling cost, enjoy in his own home the pleasure and refining influences of true art.

The quarterly tinted plates for 1874 will be by Thos. Moran and J. D. Woodward.

The Christmas issue for 1874 will contain special designs appropriate to the season, by our best artists, and will surpass in attraction any of its predecessors.

PREMIUM FOR 1874.

Every subscriber to THE ALDINE for the year 1874 will receive a pair of chromos. The original pictures were painted in oil for the publishers of THE ALDINE, by Thomas Moran, whose great Colorado picture was purchased by Congress for ten thousand dollars. The subjects were chosen to represent "The East" and "The West." One is a view in the White Mountins New Hampshire the other gives the Cliffs, of Green River, Wyoming Territory. The difference in the nature of the scenes themselves in a pleasing contrast, and affords a good display of the artist's scope and coloring. The chromos are each worked from thirty distinct plates, and are in size (12 x 16) and appearance exact fac-similes of the originals. The presentation of a worthy example of America's greatest landscape painter to the subscribers of THE ALDINE was a bold but peculiarly happy idea, and its successful realization is attested by the following testimonial, over the signature of Mr Moran himself.

NEWARK, N.J., Sept 20th,

Messrs. JAMES SUTTON & Co.

Gentlemen,—I am delighted with proofs the color of your chromos. They wonderfully successful representation by mechanical process of the original paintings.

Very respectfully,

(Signed,) THOS. MORAN.

These chromos are in every sense American, They are by an original American process, with material of American manufacture, from designs of American scenery by an American painter, and presented to subscribers to the first successful American Art Journal. If no better because of all this they will certainly possess an interest no foreign production can inspire, and neither are they any the worse if by reason of peculiar facilities of production they cost the publishers only a trifle, while equal in every respect to other chromos that are sold singly for double the subscription price of THE ALDINE. Persons of taste will prize these pictures for themselves—not for the price they did or did not cost, and will appreciate the enterprise that renders their distribution possible.

If any subscribers should indicate a preference for a figure subject, the publishers will send "Thoughts of Home," a new and beautiful chromo, 11 x 20 inches, representing a little Italian exile whose speaking eyes betray the longings of his heart.

TERMS.

$5 per annum, in advance, with Oil Chromos free.

For 50 Cents Extra, the chromos will be sent, mounted, varnished, and prepaid by mail.

THE ALDINE will, hereafter, be obtainable only by subscription. There will be no reduced or club rate; cash for subscriptions must be sent to the publishers direct, or handed to the local canvasser, without responsibility to the publishers, except in cases where the certificated is given, bearing the facsimile signature of JAMES SUTTON & Co.

THE SUN.

WEEKLY, SEMI-WEEKLY, AND DAILY.

THE WEEKLY SUN is too widely known to require any extended recommendation, but the reasons which have already given it fifty thousand subscribers, and which will, we hope, give it many thousands more are briefly as follows,

It is a first rate newspaper. All the news of the day will be found in it, condensed when unimportant, at full length when o moment, and always presented in a clear intelligible, and interesting manner.

It is a first rate family paper, full of entertaining and instructive reading of every kind, but containing nothing that can offend the most delicate and scrupulous taste.

It is a first rate story paper. The best tales and romances of current literature are carefully selected and legibly printed in its pages.

It is a first rate agricultural paper. The most fresh and instructive articles on agricultural topics regularly appear in this department.

It is an independent political paper, belonging to no party and wearing no color.—It fights for principle, and for the election of the best men to office. It especially devotes its energies to the exposure of the great corruptions that now weaken and disgrace our country and threaten to undermine republican institutions altogether. It has no fear of knaves, and asks no favors from their supporters.

It reports the fashions for the ladies and the markets for the men, especially the cattle markets, to which it pays particular attention.

Finally, it is the cheapest paper published. One dollar a year will secure it for any subscriber. It is not necessary to get up a club in order to have THE WEEKLY SUN at this rate. Any one who sends a single dollar will get the paper for a year.

We have no traveling agents.

THE WEEKLY SUN.—Eight pages, fifty six columns. Only $1 00 a year. No discounts from this rule.

THE SEMI-WEEKLY SUN.—Same size as the Daily Sun. $2 00 a pear. A discount of 20 per cent. to clubs of 10 or over.

THE DAILY SUN.—A large four page newspaper of twenty eight columns. Daily circulation over 120,000. All the news for 2 cents. Subscription price 50 cents a month, or $6 00 a year. To clubs of 10 or over, a discount of 20 per cent. Address,

LITTELL'S LIVING AGE.

A weekly magazine of sixty-four pages, THE LIVING AGE gives more than THREE AND A QUARTER THOUSAND double-column octavo pages of reading-matter yearly, forming four large volumes. It presents in an inexpensive form, considering its great amount of matter, with freshness, owing to its weekly issue, and with a satisfactory completeness attempted by no other publication, the best Essays, Reviews, Criticisms, Tales, Poetry, Scientific, Biographical, Historical, and Political Information, from the entire body of Foreign Periodical Literature.

A NEW SERIES

Was begun Jan. 1, 1873, with entirely new Tales, already embracing Serial and Short Stories by distinguished English, French, German, and Russian authors; viz., Lord Lytton (Bulwer,) Erckmann-Chatrian, Ivan Turguenieff, Miss Thackeray, Mrs. Oliphant, Fritz Reuter, Mrs Parr (author of "Dorothy Fox") Julia Kavanagh, &c.

During the coming year, as heretofore, the choicest serial and short stories by the Leading Foreign Authors will be given, together will an amount unapproached by any other periodical in the world, of the best literary and scientific matter of the day, from the pens of the above-named and other foremost Essayists Scientists, Critics, Discoverers, and Editors, representing every department of knowledge and progress.

The importance of THE LIVING AGE to every American reader, as the only complete as well as fresh compilcation of a generally inaccessible but indispensable current literature,—indispensable because it embraces the productions of THE ABLEST LIVING WRITERS in all branches of Literature, Science, Art, and Politics,—is sufficiently indicated by the following

OPINIONS.

"Reproduces the best thoughts of the best minds of the civilized world, upon all topics of living interest."—Philadelphia Inquirer.

"In no other single publication can there be found so much of sterling literary excellence,"—The Nation, New York.

"And the cheapest. A monthly that comes every week."—THE ADVANCE, CHICAGO.

"The ablest essays, the most entertaining stories, the finest poetry of the English language, are here gathered together."—Illinois State Journal.

"With it alone a reader may fairly keep up with all that is important in the literature, history, politics, and science of the day."—The Methodist, New York.

"In view of all the competitors in the field, I should certainly chose "The Living Age"—Rev. Henry Ward Beecher.

"The best periodical in America."—Rev. Dr. Cuyler.

"Has no equal in any country."—Phila. Press.

"Indispensable to every one who desires a thorough compendium of all that is admirable and noteworthy in the literary world."—Boston Post.
